Dr. Elizabeth Crandall called the meeting to order at 4:00 pm and thanked everyone for attending. Dr. Elizabeth Crandall emailed the committee two proposed 2022-2023 calendars.

- Draft A is the "normal" calendar, with attendance the first two days of Thanksgiving week.
- Draft B is a proposal that would give us the whole week of Thanksgiving off. This requires us to make up those two days of classes either at the beginning or the end of the semester. This draft proposes those at the beginning, with the assumption that no one wants to stay later in December.

Dr. Crandall asked if there were any discussions of dates. Sports Day was discussed and it was decided that having it on a Tuesday would be better than a Wednesday. Therefore, Sports Day will be on October 25th. Dr. Crandall also brought up the discussion of Draft B and taking all of the Thanksgiving break off. Dr. Crandall did some research on several 2-year and 4-year colleges and their times off during their holidays. Very few take the whole week off.

Dr. Marissa Underhill investigated the ISD schedules around the colleges in Dr. Crandall's research. Those colleges did not take the whole week of Thanksgiving off, even when the ISDs did.

Greg Fowler stated that Draft B would be detrimental to the college enrollment of dual credit students. Joe Johnston agreed. If we chose Draft B, high school and college would start on the same day. Registration would occur before the ISDs first class day. ISD Counselors would not be able to register students while still on summer break.

Dr. Crandall mentioned that dual credit is one-quarter to one-third of our students in the fall semester and if we did not have those students it would be detrimental.

Jeanne Ballard and Christie Lehman both stated that Draft B would push Financial Aid and the Business Office a little harder and into a time crunch.

Further discussion ensued about Draft B.

After discussion, three more days were added to the December Mini term to have a full four weeks. December Mini finals were moved to January 5th, with grades due January 6th.

Hearing no other discussion, Dr. Crandall asked the committee for a vote and the committee voted to send the proposed 2022-2023 calendar to the board for the final vote. The committee took a vote. 10 votes for Draft A were placed 5 votes for Draft B were placed.

2 abstentions.

There being no further business, Dr. Crandall adjourned the meeting at 4:52 pm.
