Highlights of data: The NEPIS provides demographic information regarding applicants, students, and graduates. Patterns of enrollment are revealed regarding location and semester. A profile of the faculty (both full-time and part-time) in terms of appointment, education, resignations and retirements is developed.

Use of data The purpose of this survey is to collect data on the supply of vocational nursing students and faculty in Texas. The data gathered here will also assist the Texas Center for Nursing Workforce Studies, the Texas Board of Nursing, and the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board, as well as other state organizations and the legislature, in projecting the future workforce needs of the vocational nursing education programs in the state.

How associated to Student Success? This annual study plays a primary role in tracking the pattern of demographics and recruitment/graduation achievement. This information aids in designing and adjusting the program for student success.
