Highlights of data:

New Beginnings Advisory Board meets at least once a year to review program accomplishments and evaluate procedures, services offered, and personnel. Also, 100% of the board felt that the Special Services Director and the Assistant to the Special Services Director were fully utilizing all available resources and serving adequate numbers of students.

COMMENTS:

"Greater amount of funding."

"You do a great job. Thanks for being considerate and responsible."

Continue to serve students with child care, textbook loans, gasoline reimbursement, and tutoring to remove educational barriers

How associated to Student Success? The Advisory Board constantly reviews procedures and policies of the New Beginnings program along with the efficiency and effectiveness of the staff to make sure that all funding sources are being used to remove the barriers economically disadvantaged students encounter in the pursuit of a workforce education.
