- A. Dual credit courses may be taught on the VC campus or site, on the high school campus, or via distance learning through an online/hybrid, TEAMS, or Interactive Television (ITV) format.
- B. Classes may be composed of dual credit high school students or a combination of dual credit high school students and regular college students.
- C. Transportation to and from Vernon College is the responsibility of the School District and/or Student.

V. Technology Requirements

All college courses whether face to face or online require the use of the college learning management system, Canvas, as well as additional programs/learning resources to complete course requirements. Therefore, students will need technology in order to access these systems. Should the student have a device (computer, tablet or laptop) checked out by the ISD, they will need to ensure the appropriate programs/learning resources are accessible.
- B. To ensure academic integrity and compliance with institutional standards, Vernon College requires proctored testing in all online and hybrid courses. To meet this requirement, the College utilizes the following proctoring options:
 - a. Honorlock – An online, remote proctoring service that allows students to complete exams in a secure, monitored virtual environment. The Chromebook extension and training will be provided by VC.

- B. High school students are considered college students when they enroll in a VC course. VC final semester letter grades are available to each student through the College's online student information system. Students are encouraged to contact the course instructor with any grade concerns during the semester.
- C. Letter and numerical grades will be provided to the high school at the end of the semester upon verification of final grades.
- D. Dual Credit students are covered under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, FERPA. While, FERPA gives parents rights to their children's educational records in grades K-12, those rights transfer to the student once they enroll at a college or university. Under this law, Vernon College may not share certain information with anyone, including parents, without written consent of the student. For full FERPA guidelines, refer to the VC General Catalog.

- E. High School students requesting special accommodations while enrolled in dual credit courses must follow VC procedures. All requests for special accommodations shall be made to the VC PASS Department/Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD).

VIII. Academic Policies and Student Support Services

- A. Students, not high school representatives such as counselors or parents, are individually responsible for absence notices, grade discrepancies, success in the class and communicating with VC faculty or staff. Students are required to adhere to VC policies and procedures as published in the current VC General Catalog and the current VC Student Handbook. Both resources can be found on the Vernon College website.
- B. Behavioral, discipline, and conduct issues of students enrolled in dual credit classes which are delivered to non-VC controlled facilities (high schools), are under the high school's supervision and will be handled by administrators of the physical campus which the student attends.
- C. VC highly recommends careful consideration of enrolling in dual credit classes if a student is involved in a large number of extra-curricular activities.
- D. Students enrolled in dual credit courses will have access to the same student support services as other VC students. Support services include but are not limited to admissions, advising, counseling, library, and special services. All available student support services can be found in the VC Student Handbook.

- J. The usernames and passwords used to access online courses and any student related materials/records must be kept strictly confidential. Unauthorized use of a specific student's password constitutes a breach of security and a breach of the Vernon College Academic Integrity policy. Students may receive lower grades and/or be withdrawn from the class with a grade of "F" as a result of the unauthorized use of usernames and/or passwords.

IX. Vernon College ADA Statement

Vernon College defines a dual credit class as "A college-level class delivered and controlled by the college, utilizing SACSCOC credentialed full-time faculty and/or adjunct faculty and/or high school faculty that meet SACSCOC credentials; which the high school permits qualified high school students to enroll in for the opportunity for dual credit." As the student participates and completes the college-level course, the grades are provided to the high school and the high school awards dual credit to the high school student for the appropriate corresponding high school class. The student is not participating in a high school class.

K-12 Individual Education Plans (IEP) and ARD agreements/plans are not applicable to the high school students enrolled in a college-level class. High school students enrolled in college-level classes for the opportunity for dual credit should request appropriate accommodations from the college just as any other college student. After the request for accommodations has been filed, the college will follow its' processes and practices for the high school student just as it would any other college student that requests appropriate accommodations in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). If students or parents are concerned about college level appropriate accommodations, they should strongly consider the pros and cons of participation in the college's classes offered for dual credit opportunities.

The information related to ADA accommodations at Vernon College is in the Vernon College Catalog, the Vernon College Student Handbook, and on the Vernon College website.

The PASS Department Director/Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD) Coordinator is available on the Vernon campus and the Century City Center location. Students may contact by phone at 940-552-6292 ext. 2307 or email:

Rachel White at rwhite@vernoncollege.edu
